DIARY NOTES

DD/S W

13 October 1964

1. At the Executive Committee Meeting this morning I reported to the Director on the tape which had been made at [REDACTED] of the conversation between McGeorge Bundy and Bromley Smith on 16 September. The Director thought that the substance of the conversation was unimportant but asked that we send a memorandum to Mr. Bundy telling him that the conversation had been inadvertently monitored and pointing out to him that any such conversation could be easily monitored since the conversation was not enciphered. [REDACTED] telephoned after the meeting, however, to say that the Director would handle this matter verbally this morning at a meeting of the President's Committee on the Warren Report scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Walt said that we shouldn't do anything more about this unless we hear from him.

2. I visited the [REDACTED] today with [REDACTED] and listened to about a three-hour presentation by their supplementary program staff. It was very interesting and helped one to understand where the Office of Communications research and development money goes; about half of it, or perhaps a little more, goes into this area. [REDACTED] from John Clarke's shop was also with us, and it was obvious that he was most favorably impressed. I was also impressed with the caliber of the young communications engineers I saw on duty at the lab. They were obviously well educated and well grounded, and almost without exception their presentations were excellent.

length today. He also said that [REDACTED] was not satisfied with the protection she has been provided and that NPIC is still working on some plan to get her out of town for a while, possibly to JMWAVE or a Contact Division office. I expressed some reluctance to sending her to JMWAVE since they have enough problems to worry about without her. I asked Earle to ensure that [REDACTED] of the Office of Security is kept advised of all actions.)
